What do young people want from healthcare in a digital environment?

Volunteer as a project lead for Healthwatch to help raise the voice of young people and influence change.

Is this for you?

Yes, if you are aged 18-25, live, work or study in Hammersmith & Fulham and want to gain project management and community engagement experience, as well as interviewing and research skills.

What will you be doing?

Design and deliver a set of activities that will take place in November to encourage young people to share their views on digital healthcare. Activities could include almost anything you like.

How will this work and how much time do I need to commit?

You will be working within a small team with other project leads, coordinated by the Hammersmith & Fulham engagement lead. Travel and out-of-pocket expenses will be reimbursed.

-  July–August: meet with the Hammersmith & Fulham engagement lead to talk through the project (1 hour)
-  September: meet with the other project leads and continue discussions on online to decide on project activities (10 hrs)
-  October: design and promote activities (10 hrs)
-  November: deliver activities (20–30 hrs)
-  December: evaluate the project and celebrate! (3 hrs)

This is an estimate of commitment times.
